C-secure wallets protect your money

The way in which we pay has changed significantly. Goodbye cash, hello cards. Today, we use cards to make virtual payments: fast, smooth and safe. But, is it really that safe? How safe are your debit, credit or ID cards when you pay in a shop or when you walk around town? Fact is that your RFID-cards are not protected against skimming. Any malicious person with a wireless reader can copy your data without you even noticing it, if they can come close. According to digital security experts, it takes just seconds of distraction to get skimmed. What we need today is a wallet that is skimsafe and designed to last.

Craftsmanship as we like it

100% nature-friendly

The Vegetable Tanned Wallet collection

The full grain vegetable tanned leather is produced in Tuscany (Italy) where the tanning process is performed traditionally, using nature-friendly materials. The leather is coloured by hand, using vegetable tannings and no additional synthetic agents. Pure craftsmanship as we like it.

Natural look

Craftsmanship as we like it

Since we only use naked leather (without an artificial protective layer), finished by applying waxes or oils, the exterior of your wallet may change over time, as the waxes migrate over the skin. What you'll see is the real structure of the skin with all its little imperfections.

Vegetable Tanned Wallets

Safe, sustainable and luxurious

Our Vegetable Tanned Wallets are both 100% nature-friendly and luxurious, and they offer the safety you may expect from c-secure. The top layer is made of the finest leather that has a highly natural appeal. The Vegetable Tanned Wallet collection uses full-grain leather the surface of which has not been sanded, giving way to natural marks. We offer two finishes: aniline and semi-aniline.

Our story

Innovating since 2013

In 2013, a group of creative people came together for an evening of discussion. We talked about the rapid change of technology, specifically in our financial system. The way in which we pay would change significantly by the brand-new introduction of contactless payment. Our main thought: even though our cards are equipped with RFID or NFC technology, they are not protected against electronic pickpocketing or skimming. It was then that we came up with a solution and that c-secure was born.

*A style for everyone:
classic, vintage, funky*

Finest Italian leather

Our solution

What we need today are wallets and cardholders that are skimsafe. Wallets that protect your money, using innovative technology. Why? Because wireless readers that steal your data can read through any fabric or leather. In order to stop the radio waves, your wallet needs RFID-protection. This is where c-secure comes in. We offer the perfect solution: a wide collection of stylish wallets and cardholders with RFID-protection.

HQ in the Netherlands

Ever since we started designing, producing and selling our safe wallets, in 2013, they have been a great success in both B2C and B2B markets. As the demand for our product keeps increasing, we are always on the lookout for more points of sale. Retailers who, like c-secure, offer excellent customer service are very welcome to contact c-secure in Arnhem, the Netherlands.
